

GORDON COLLEGE

Assistant or Associate Professor of Business and Economics: Accounting

The Department of Economics and Business at Gordon College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track assistant or associate professor, or professor in the practice appointment with a specialization in accounting. Position to begin August 2017. Rank commensurate with experience.

The Department of Economics and Business, with seven full-time and four part-time faculty, offers majors in accounting, finance, business administration, and economics.

Principal teaching responsibilities will include a focus in accounting with the ability to also teach introductory finance. In addition to teaching principles of finance, an accounting candidate would teach courses from among such topics as: principles of accounting, intermediate accounting, auditing, federal taxation, cost accounting, forensic accounting, advanced accounting, accounting information systems, and possibly other related courses.

The teaching load is 3-3. Faculty responsibilities also include advising students, service on college committees, and an active scholarship program.

The ideal accounting candidate will have:

- A Ph.D. in Accounting and a CPA. Consideration will be given to CPAs with a master's degree in business administration or accounting with significant relevant professional experience.
- Potential for excellence in undergraduate teaching.
- Desire to engage in scholarly research including the integration of accounting and Christianity.
- A strong commitment to the Christian mission of the college.

Gordon College is recruiting accomplished faculty who demonstrate the ability to combine outstanding scholarship and professional work with a passion for teaching and mentoring, and who are dedicated to preparing thoughtful Christian men and women for lives of service and leadership worldwide.

As one of the country's top liberal arts colleges with a vibrant Christian community, Gordon is uniquely positioned to lead the conversation at the intersection of faith and cultural engagement. We need scholars with a depth of understanding, a breadth of knowledge, and the desire to be part of the dialogue.

Interested applicants should submit: a Curriculum Vitae, a sample of academic or professional writing (20-30 pages), a statement of teaching philosophy, three letters of recommendation, and a letter of application that addresses their fit with the Christian mission of Gordon College, the College's Statement of Faith, and with the specific position.

The review of applicants will begin on October 21 and continue until the position is filled. For more information and to apply please go to: <http://www.gordon.edu/teachatgordon>
